CLAMES EAT BUSINESS HEART OF OCEAN PARK.

Red Destruction.

THREE-MILLION-DOLLAR
WONDERLAND IN ASHES.Known Dead and Fifteen Missing
In Great Beach City Fire.

Confusion-Thrown Cigarette Believed Cause of Conflagration Which Sweeps Clean Sea Front of Ocean Park, Taking Fraser's Million-Dollar Pier and Many Costly Buildings.

nothing would be saved and that the flames would only be checked when there was nothing left for them to burn.

Thousands of the onlookers witnessed a spectacle that held them in the grasp of an awful suspense when they saw the little group of a dozen persons hemmed in by the flames on Fraser's pier. On three sides of the little group were immense walls of flames that were shooting hundreds of feet into the air. At the end of the pier the ocean waves broke heavily. Some of the trapped persons could not swim and they could be seen, when the smoke lifted and the wall of fire shifted, running about the pier in an agony of terror.

HEROES RISK LIVES.

Then came an example of splendid heroism. Several men volunteered to undertake the rescue of the trapped victims. A boat was secured by two doomed men had jumped into the ocean, Locke could be seen running up and down the pier, apparently dazed and helpless from fright. From vantage points of safety men and women watched him and tried to make their voices carry above the roar of the flames and the crackling of falling timbers in an effort to calm him. Apparently he heard nothing.

When the flames began to creep closer and closer to him, searching his face and hands and singeing his hair, he suddenly turned and ran madly for the end of the pier. He never paused when he reached it, but cast himself out into the ocean. He could not swim and the breakers easily engulfed the victim who had cheated the fire. A few minutes afterward they tossed his lifeless body up on the beach, satisfied with their work.

NOBLE RESCUE.

Just before Locke jumped the waves and carrying younger ones in their arms. The Santa Monica and Venice police, who had hurried to the scene performed gigantic tasks in helping the struggling ones to places of safety.

It seemed to be but a few minutes before the fire had fairly eaten up the block in which the Decatur Hotel stood.

To add to the helplessness of the citizens, the water supply proved totally inadequate for fighting the destroyer. A few puny streams were directed at it when the fire first started, but they did not seem to do anything more than agitate the flames. It was not until the high-pressure service of Venice was utilized and apparatus reached the little city from Los Angeles that the firemen could direct their efforts so that any effect on the flames was noticeable.

PROBABLY ONE OF THE MOST NOTICABLE

Hour of Extremity.

BURNING CITY PLACED
UNDER MARTIAL LAW.

Ocean Park's Day of Disaster Breaks All Her Crowd Records.

Scores of Thousands Strain Against Fire Lines, Mobs Line Hillsides and Fight to Reach Scene of Conflagration. Vigilance of Militia Prevents Looters and Disorder—Caring for the Homeless.

HUNDRED THOUSAND persons stood last night and watched helplessly while the lurid glare of flame and vast columns of smoke rose from burning Ocean Park and drifted over Venice and thence inland like an unhallowed pall. The flame was distinctly visible at the height of the fire from various points in the western part of the city.

Thousands upon thousands of long-distance spectators would have hastened instantly to the beach had the opportunity offered. They clamed for it, right, they all but fought for it—but the Pacific Electric cars turning beachward from the city went out empty, and made no stops until they reached the burning seaside city.

Realizing that the continuance of beach-bound traffic at such a time would only result in a confusion and congestion that would be hopeless, President Shoup of the Pacific Electric took personal charge of the transportation situation and issued orders for the cutting off of service from the beach at 6 o'clock.

Every available car was sent down from Los Angeles for the use of the refugees, and orders were given that every one was to be turned to service on this line as rapidly as each could be put into commission. As a result, immediately after 6 o'clock a long train of empty cars began to rush toward Ocean Park, although thousands of people were clamoring to find places in them.

HOST OF REFUGEES.

At the beach the announcement was made that any of the refugees who wished transportation to Los Angeles could be had by the use of dynamite in blowing up of buildings, but a hurried consultation revealed the fact that there was not sufficient amount of this explosive obtainable in either Venice, Ocean Park or Santa Monica.

Officials of the Pacific Electric telephoned to the Police Station at Los Angeles to rush arrangements for securing a considerable quantity of dynamite here and also made arrangements for special patrols and guards for its transportation to Ocean Park. Fortunately it was not needed.

DEATH LURKS NEAR.

Los Angeles Firemen Fight Flames Over Spot Where Great Quantity of Gasoline is Stored.

Unconscious of the horrible death that lurked beneath them a dozen members of the Los Angeles Fire Department worked for an hour fighting the flames adjacent to the Auto Inn garage on the beach, both of which were stored 400 gallons of gasoline.

The flames reached the garage and the word went around that the deadly gasoline was in a buried tank just under the floor. The flames were racing up the avenue and if they were not stayed at this juncture would sweep everything before them. The men refused to leave when told of the danger and fought back the harder, eventually checking the fire just before the main portion of the garage became ignited.

VERMONT STILL REPUBLICAN.Governor's Election Throw Into the House.The Early Returns Indicate Drift of Voters.The Bull Moose Runs Behind Democratic Ticket.(By A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)WHITE RIVER JUNCTION (Vt.) Sept. 2.—The strength of the new Progressive Bull Moosie party in its first line-up against the older parties and the disappearance of the Republican majority for the first time in ten years and the first time in history of the State on a Presidential year, were the outstanding features of the State election in Vermont today.It was apparent early in the evening that there had been no election by the people, although a sufficient number of Republican representatives were successful enough to seem to insure the choice of Alton M. Fletcher of Cavendish by the Legislature.For many years political students have pointed out that any decrease in the Republican majority in the Senate would be more than offset by the increase in the House.In 1910 the vote for Governor was: Mead, Republican, 25,763; Watson, Democrat, 17,452. This indicates a swing almost invariably by the party defeat in the Presidential fight in November. These majorities, which have averaged close to 30,000 in all the State elections in Vermont in Presidential years since 1892, were represented today by a bare plurality.The Republican loss apparently went in a great degree to the Third Termers and to a somewhat lesser extent to the Democrats.With about two-thirds of the State complete it is clear that Fletcher, Republican candidate for Governor, has fallen between 5000 and 6000 votes below the majority necessary to elect 170 cities and towns out of 246 giving: Fletcher, Republican, 17,359; Howe, Democrat, 12,722; Metzger, Bull Moose, 10,760. Same places in 1910 gave: Mead, Republican, 23,314; Watson, Democrat, 11,625.The House which will name the Governor is overwhelmingly Republican. EARLY RETURNS.*Returns from 50 out of 246 cities and towns give: Fletcher, Republican, 14,777; Howe, Democrat, 2,777; Metzger, Bull Moose, 2,520; Smith, Prohibitionist, 224; Sulter, Socialist, 125.The same places in 1910 gave: Mead, Republican, 5,512; Watson, Democrat, 3,200; Towl, Prohibitionist, 185; Ordeman, Socialist, 101.*REPUBLICAN CONGRESSMAN. Congressmen elected:Fifth District—Frank L. Greene of St. Albans, Republican.Second District—Frank Plumley of Northfield, Republican.*FIRST RETURNS.*The first returns in today's State came from the town of Woodstock and gave the vote for Representative in the Legislature as follows:Billingham, Republican, 325; Robinson, Bull Moose, 131; Cantfield, independent, 44.This town in 1910 gave the following vote for Governor:Meade, Republican, 247; Watson, Democrat, 25.Returns for Governor from the first town, Shrewsbury, in the State election today gave Fletcher, Republican, 82; Howe, Democrat, 26; Metzger, Bull Moose, 99.The vote for Governor in 1910: Mead, Republican, 118; Watson, Democrat, 25.Returns for Governor from 217 out of 246 cities and towns give:Fletcher (Rep.) 23,602; Howe (Dem.) 18,256; Metzger (Prog.) 14,226; Smith (Pro.) 14,25; Sulter (Soc.) 1,094.Same places in 1910 gave:Mead (Rep.) 31,812; Watson (Dem.) 15,802; Towl (Pro.) 1,052; Ordway (Soc.) 850.*BULL MOOSE JOY SHORTLIVED.*First Flash Indicates Election of Their Candidate, But Ho Swift Falls Into Third Place.(By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.)BURLINGTON (Vt.) Sept. 2.—[Special Dispatch.] The election developed a paradox in that while in many towns of strong third term tendencies where Fletcher's plurality was cut to almost nothing, the Republican representatives who will insure his election were given the same vote as in former years. The first returns showed a falling off in the Republican vote. There were several reasons here why the Bull Moose carried towns which were marked on the campaign maps as Republican strongholds.*ALL PARTIES SEEM SATISFIED.*The election was the first in years, if not the first in the history of Vermont, where every party to it declared itself satisfied at the outcome. The Progressives believe they have accomplished much. The Republicans leaders on the other hand, declare they were "very much pleased."The satisfaction of the Democratic managers is derived from the fact that the returns have disproved the assertion of the Progressives that they would attract voters from the Democratic party.The first returns gave the Progressives a flash of joy, a claim that Metzger, the minister candidate of the party, had been elected. The was more pronounced on the coast side of the Green Mountains than in the west and also among these towns adjacent to those along the Canadian border, where the Republican reciprocity measure was extremely disastrous.*BULL MOOSE THIRD.*Returns from five out of six cities and 173 out of 246 towns gave Fletcher, Republican, 15,760; Howe, Democrat, 14,170, and Metzger, Progressive, 11,741, and Representatives chosen in the cities and towns up to 12 o'clock Republicans, 98; Democrats 50 and Progressives, 50.The ratio of the latest returns if carried out will give Fletcher, Rep.publican, 26,460; Howe, Democrat, 20,205, and Metzgar, Bull Moose, 16,632.DEMOCRATIC LOSSES.Bull Moose Candidate Gathers Ballots Mostly from Republicans but Some Also from Other Side.(By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.)BURLINGTON (Vt.) Sept. 2.—[Special Dispatch.] At midnight tonight all indications pointed to the fact that Vermont had failed to elect a Governor today. Returns have been received from more than half the State. These returns indicate the Democratic and Bull Moose candidates together about 3,000 more votes than with less than 10,000 votes for each of the Prohibition and Socialist candidates.There is no doubt in my belief that the remaining towns will change this ratio and as a majority is required to elect, it will be the duty of the Legislature to choose to elect a Governor. There is no doubt about the complexion of the Legislature and Allen M. Fletcher of Cavendish, the Republican candidate, will be chosen as the Legislature meets the first Wednesday in October.*REPUBLICAN DISSENTION.*The entrance into the field of the third termer with a candidate for Governor is responsible for the throwing of the gubernatorial election into the House, as the Bull Moose candidate's name was not entirely drawn from the Republican ranks.Democrats and Bull Moose leaders tonight are jubilant over the result and claim the result is practically a draw.*FALL IN DEMOCRATIC VOTE.*If the present ratio holds in the remaining towns and cities to be heard from, which is considered likely, the vote will stand: Fletcher, Republican, 25,200; Howe, Democrat, 16,000, and Metzgar, Bull Moose, 14,000.In 1910 the vote for Governor was: Mead, Republican, 25,763; Watson, Democrat, 17,452. SKIN BLISTERED.MERCHANTS AND COTTAGE SAW THEIR ALL PERISH.STRONG MEN MADE FRENZIED
BY FLAME DEMONS.FRANTIC EFFORTS TO RESCUE
HOUSEHOLD EFFECTS.*

Terror clutched at the hearts of householders, business men and temperance leaders, and almost overwhelmed many of them when fire leaped from the Casino on Fraser's Pier across to the buildings on the strand and with startling rapidity swept from building after building until blocks of structures had been devoured and lay a mass of blackened, smouldering ruins.

While haughty tower and graceful minaret melted away in the seething cauldron of flame, and the Dragon Gorge, $15,000 investment round, auto-maize, and other amusement features that have made Ocean Park famous as one of the leading Southern California pleasure resorts, were one after another reduced to blackened ashes or smouldering and angry-red coals, persons along the strand, from the northerly limits of Ocean Park to the far business sections of Venice, were held in the thrall of a fear that the entire beach could be in flames next.

The effect was startling. Business men, cool under ordinary circumstances, became almost helpless in some instances. Others rushed with frenzied energy to save the savings of their valuables and merchandise. Householders made frantic haste to gather their most cherished goods and remove them to the street or load them on vehicles pressed into this service.

All the way from two or three blocks north of Ashland avenue to the southerly limits of the business concerns at Venice, a mile and a half distant, there was a scurrying of men, women, and children to remove goods from buildings.

Vehicles of every sort were pressed into service. In one instance a woman had loaded a good-sized truck onto a baby carriage and had it on the sidewalk, ready to move on should the flames continue to spread.

STREETS CLUTTERED.

In other instances goods were piled in the street as far away from the buildings as possible, while the owners had left children in charge and had gone to seek a conveyance.

Marshall Pier also had little opportunity to remove goods from their stores, for the spread of the flames was so rapid that the saving of account books and business papers was about all that could be accomplished.

At the bottom of the ocean lies this morning a collection of some of the most valuable goods shown in the stores and hotel concessions on the pier. When the Casino shot off removal of goods from the pier to the beach, concessionaires began to carry their most valuable goods to the outer end of the pier, where a blind man ran up that the fire would be quenched before it reached that point. When the flames rapidly crept along the pier and lapped at the wooden structure until the flooring exploded, the old man, the ocean great piles of lace, tapestry, brocade and art ware, which, if recovered, will probably be useful only as souvenirs of the first really serious fire blazed.

Egley wrapped wet cloths about his face and grabbed a grapple bar of his wagon, made a dash through the shooting flames and flying embers. He emerged burning about the cheeks and forehead and with hands and arms greedily eating into the buildings.

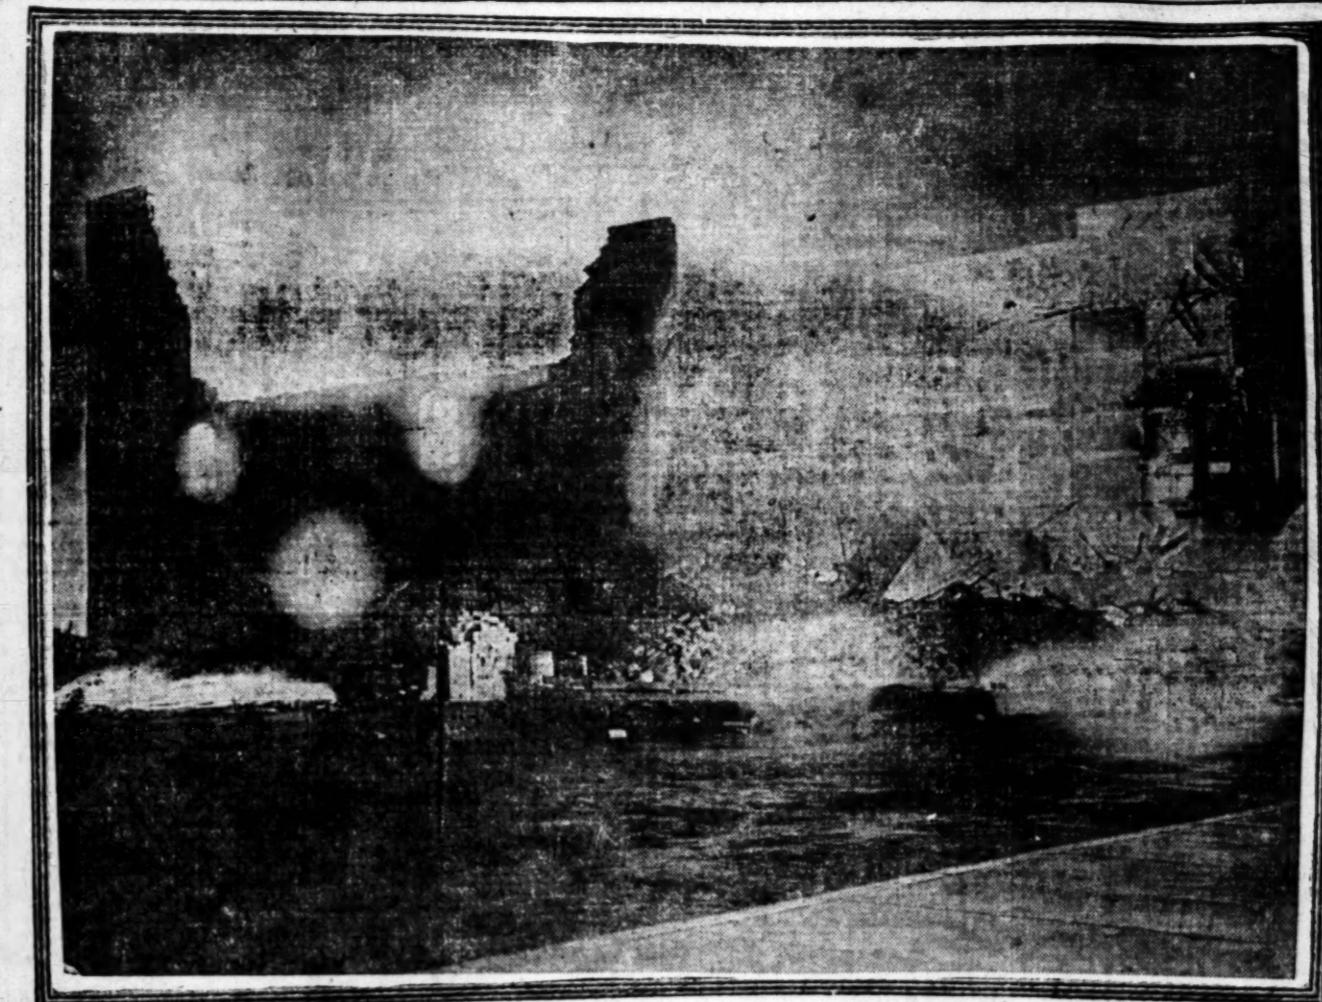

Egley wrapped wet cloths about his face and grabbed a grapple bar of his wagon, made a dash through the shooting flames and flying embers. He emerged burning about the cheeks and forehead and with hands and arms greedily eating into the buildings.

Among the odd sights noted last night was a lighted lamp in the center of a sand lot in front of a cottage. Beside the lamp lay the fragments of a large glass jar that evidently had been filled with the cinders strewn about.

Before another cottage a pile of bedding lay in the sand and on this peacefully slumbered two little children. In the distance in the block around thousands watched the progress of the flames.

INCUBATOR BABES SAFE.

In all these blocks from the trolley way to the sea the bathhouse is the only building that remains.

A man named Rose dashed into the hotel, reached the room, 132, where the baby was said to have been, but failed to find any human being, and struggled out almost overcome by smoke and gas.

GOOD SAMARITAN.

Mrs. Emma Horne, No. 145 Raymond avenue, played the Good Samaritan. She provided herself with a large bucket and the cups, and passed through the lines with her bucket filled with drinking water for the fire-fighters and bandages for those who had sustained burns.

Mrs. Bernard, who lived on Navy avenue in one of the cottages occupied by the old man, left him and reached Trolleyway when she thought of her diamonds, which she had left in the house, and hurried back for them. She found her way into the smoke-filled rooms, discovered a chamois skin bag that held the prized sparklers, and rushed out only to stumble over some goods that lay on the sand and to feel the bag fly from her hand. She vowed she would get it as long as the police would permit her, but finally had to leave without the gems.

A dramatic incident showing the desperation of these owning concessions on the big pier and the suddenness with which the flames burst on them was when Unger's balloon, which had been making half-hour ascensions, was cut loose from its moorings by its owner and in a wild plunge to freedom wrapped its trailing rope about the burning gas pole of the auditorium and tore it from its support, carrying the gigantic firebrand in a dangerous headlong flight.

Two hours afterward the balloon was found near San Dimas, where it had become entangled in the trolley wires of the Pacific Electric and in its struggles to free itself had wrecked the trolley line for several hundred feet, effectively putting the line out of operation for two hours.

In the Howell, proprietor of the Hotel Decatur, was a guest from San Francisco at the time of the disastrous fire in that city and lost his property there. He recently took over the Decatur from J. L. Stineman, who last night lost five cottages, La Petite Theater and the Post Card Palace.

HANDLING OF TRAFFIC FROM BURNING CITY GRAVE PROBLEM—MANY MEN CLEARING THE TRACKS.

PAUL ELEY, manager of the Pacific Electric, said last night: "The problem of traffic was one which troubled us. It was manifestly not proper to add to the problems of Ocean Park officials by bringing in thousands of sightseers. For that reason we ordered the cars from Los Angeles to Venice to run light and to bring no passengers to the beach."

"In the cars ran to Sixteenth street and Burlingame avenue, where the Los Angeles Railway could distribute the refugees."

"We banked all cars possible at Venice and Santa Monica to carry the people to the city."

"Four freight trains were turned over to the people to carry their baggage to the city."

"We turned three trains over to the Los Angeles police department, and offered the fire department the service of the entire line."

"Tonight Assistant Chief Engineer Johnson has some 800 men clearing up the streets from the streets in the burned district."

ONE WOMAN MET HER DEATH, NO AVENUE OF ESCAPE.

One of the constant visitors of the fire fighters was the fact of the building of which others which were very large quantities stored. One of these was the top of the pier. When he reached the top he found the explosion had blown the top off the pier. When he reached the child and caught them up in his arms. Then he lowered his head and appeared to plunge directly through a sheet of fire. His face was blistered and burned, his hair was singed and the hair on the heads of the little girls was burned, but they came through the pathway of death not seriously harmed.

"I want my mama, I want my mama," cried the frightened girl, a child of 10 years. They were so scared that they could not tell their mother. Sandlin carried them down to Navy street, where he thrust them into the arms of an astonished woman.

"Here, take care of these little things," he cried and then, although suffering from many burns, ran back to the fire to give what aid he could to others who were hurt.

"I was burned about the face and my hands are all burned," said Sandlin at midnight, holding his hands that had been wrapped in cloths. "I do not want to quit my post and will not leave the fire until I am ordered to do so by my superior officers. I don't know what became of the little girls I saved. I suppose that they have found their mother or someone who knows them by this time."

The court found that medical authorities agreed that the operation was successful and painless.

Just to the north of the Dragon Gorge was one of the most popular camps. There were many old and new men, all of them well dressed and well groomed.

Some of them had been floating in the sand; some of them a few pieces of bed clothes others were wrapped in towels and rugs to keep warm at night.

RUSH OF GUARDSMEN TO AID AT THE BEACH.

WITHOUT a captain and feeling unable to properly cope with a serious situation growing worse every minute, Co. E, Seventh Infantry, N.G.C., of Santa Monica, sent a long distance telephone call to help the Armory at 8 o'clock. Sixty minutes later seventy-five men, members of the Hospital Corps, Co. A and half a dozen Naval Reserves, were on a special Pacific Electric train speeding toward the sea, accourette to riot duty.

When the train reached the beach, the men were able to see the fire for themselves. There were 500 men and women who had come to the beach to help put out the fire. But the fire was still burning.

It was decided at the beach that the entire force would be used to put out the fire. The men were to be used to put out the fire, and the women to help the men.

When the fire was put out, the men were to be used to put out the fire, and the women to help the men.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Sinking.
William J. Murphy, son of the late Francis Murphy, who had been near death at sea, was at the Seaman's Hospital No. 1332 West Fortieth place, was unconscious early this morning and very weak. His death is anticipated at any moment.

Good Speaking Assured.

Bishop Conaty, Judge McCormick, Rev. J. A. Glass of St. Vincent's, D. J. Lucey and Joseph Scott will be the principal speakers at the commencement which will be tendered tonight at Brink's by the Young Men's Institute to Thomas P. White, recently elected grand president of the organization. Only Eleven Miles Left.

John M. Williams, remains of the route of the Los Angeles Auto-duct that have not been touched by the work of the construction gangs, and less than fourteen miles of the great waterway remain to be finished. It was the situation which Chief Engineer Mullholland found upon his visit to the work the latter part of last week. The indications now are that the remainder will be completed within five months.

Chased and Captured.

After a chase of about five blocks on Main street near the Plaza, S. Masquera, a Mexican, was arrested by Patrolmen Hatch and Baumgartner and locked up in the Central Station on suspicion of attempting to hold up and rob S. Lopez, another Mexican, on San Fernando street. Masquera used a spring knife on Lopez, it is said, cutting a gash on the back of his right hand when Lopez resisted.

Dog Muzzles May Come Off.

President Williams of the City Council stated yesterday that the subject of repealing the dog-muzzling ordinance will probably appear before the City Council at a session next month, and that he believes it would be timely to repeat this law. It was adopted as an emergency measure with the advent of the hot weather, upon recommendation of the Health Commission. Owners who are increasing the cases of rabies are requesting that the Council take action, and the members of the Council feel that this vigilance may be needed.

Fire Watchers.

A superheated sheet-iron stove and spontaneous combustion among some oiled rags in a closet are given by the department as the cause of two early morning fires yesterday. The first occurred at 12:45 a.m. in the Southern Pacific freight yards near Lawrence street, occupied by Jose Armandes and Thomas Puidio. The loss is estimated at $700. The second fire, at 1:45 a.m., was at 362 West Forty-second place. The building was damaged $50 and the contents $250.

Burglars Steal Opportunity.

While residents in the University district were away from home last night, the same late reports of the Ocean Park fire, which had been burglarized the last being valued at over $1000. More than $600 worth of diamonds and jewelry were taken from the residence of G. W. Burrill, No. 68 West Twenty-fourth street. Entrance was effected through the door. Other thefts were reported to the police from No. 520 East Twenty-third street and No. 3627 South Flower street.

CHAUFFEUR SKIPS OUT.

Runs Down Newsboy With His Auto and Then Turns on the Gas and Speeds Away.

The police are looking for the owner or driver of the auto bearing the California license No. 50,859, which ran down and injured at First and Los Angeles streets Joe Peters, a newsboy, 14 years old, and living at No. 720 Wall street. The car is listed to Charles D. Blaine, San Luis Obispo. After knocking the boy down, the man driving the machine threw the engine wide open and disappeared down Los Angeles street, leaving a cloud of dust. An effort was made by pedestrians to overtake the car, but the driver had too much of a start.

Peters was endeavoring to cross the street to sell a paper when the accident happened. Under the law the driver of the machine was expected to stop and render what assistance he could to the lad. If the latter demanded it, the driver would be forced to take him to the nearest physician, hospital or to his own home. Failure to render aid is a violation of the law, which is punishable by either a fine or imprisonment, or both. The driver violated another law when he failed to make a detailed report to the police on the accident.

The police say they are preparing to take drastic action against motor-drivers who lately seem to have grown lax in the matter of reporting accidents. There have been more than thirty accidents have occurred in the city, and none of the parties implicated have made any report to the authorities.

WORK OR THE GRAND JURY.
Smuggling Cases and I.W.W. Disturbances to Be Investigated—Dispute Over Witness Fees.

On account of a misunderstanding when the order was made for subpoenaing a Federal grand jury about a month ago, the members of that body reported to Judge Wellborn yesterday. They were dismissed, however, with the admonition to report this afternoon at 3 o'clock, when they will be regularly empaneled and sworn.

The term trial jury will report this morning, but it is not probable that it will be called upon for service for at least a month when Edna Hall and Antoinette Fell will be tried on the charge of smuggling Chinese.

One of the men to be looked into by the inquisitorial body will be to investigate the recent activities of the I.W.W. in San Diego, although it is understood that the gang of undesirable elements infesting that city for so long have dissolved. The investigation will involve seven members of the I.W.W., now under arrest in San Diego, on the charge of conspiring to carry arms and ammunition across the border line into Mexico.

The men were arrested under a warrant issued by the Department of Commerce and Labor, and have since been in the custody of that department. The law provides that witnesses arrested under a warrant issued by the United States District Attorney, and committed by order of the United States Court or United States Commissioner, shall be paid $1 a day and given subsistence while held in confinement.

A request has been made for the payment of one dollar rate to these Chinese witnesses by the United States Marshal, but it is understood that such payment will be refused on the ground that the official has had no jurisdiction of the men.

USERS CLEVER RUSE.

Comes to See the Boys. But He Avoids Them and Inspects Their Belongings Instead.

An unidentified young man, who gained an entrance into the rooming house at No. 124 South Main street under the pretense of telling the landlady that he wanted "to see the boys," ransacked three rooms before he left. He took a number of personal effects from the rooms occupied by C. F. Brinkley, Edward Smith and Dock Ramsey.

The Central Station detectives have also been asked to locate the man who stole $100 worth of oak and maple furniture from the rear of No. 124 South Main street, according to Olson and Reynolds. They had left the lumber there for another, but still "another man" got it.

A quantity of cigars and chewing gum were taken from the room of an unidentified young man, who was staying at the rooming house at No. 124 South Main street. The thief gained entrance by climbing over the transom.

INCOMPLETE RETURNS.

partial count was cast at the primaries today.

No active campaign was conducted and the regular party men were not interested. The Bull Moosers are strong in Imperial county, and anticipated a walkover victory. They show a very close vote between Kirby of San Diego and Evans of Riverside for Congress. Kirby was slightly in lead at midnight, and it will require an official count to decide who wins.

4 Kirby announced himself as a "progressive" within the party, and Evans declared himself an out-and-out Bull Moose. Kirby and Chapman are running neck and neck for Senator, with a slight margin for Anderson.

Birkhauser and Moorehouse, both Bull Moose candidates for the Assembly, are also close together, with the chances slightly in favor of Moorehouse.

The six cities of the valley show the following complete returns: For Congress, Kirby, 159; Evans, 145. For Senator, Chapman, 111; Anderson, 104. For Assembly, Moorehouse, 151; Birkhauser, 125.

Outlying districts may make slight changes, but not sufficient to change the result.

ATTITUDE OF THIS JOURNAL.

For the country and the flag;

For the Constitution and the courts;

For upholding the honor of the army and navy;

For an Ocean-to-Ocean highway;

For the freedom in the industries;

For unorganized labor, nation-wide;

For the just right of all men to work;

For Labor's protection, reward and repose;

For the home and its safeguarding;

For social order and human solidarity;

For the people's government with honor;

For security in the State;

For the old cause and the Old Guard;

And against their allied antagonists;

Against political fade, fraud and frenzy;

Against the Big Notes and the Big Stick;

Against the new-fangled judicial recall;

Against free trade and free ports;

Against industrial discrimination and proscription;

Against the trusts, when it suits us, but

Against the bomb, bayonet and dredge;

Against strikes, picketing and violence;

Against "progressive" backwoods;

Against brooks and the bad flag.

LIBERAL.

An Oakland minister commands the women who wear form-fitting gowns. He is probably lucky enough to have a hand-some congregation.

A N ENTHUSIAST.

When a man gets within one hundred feet of the polls these days and a beautiful young woman hands him some Republican literature he remembers the infant industries and votes for protection.

THEY DON'T MIND.

Elections are not particularly hard on cameras because they are popularly supposed to be able to go without drinking for six days. This theory, of course, has not been sustained by caravans visiting Los Angeles.

THE MILLENNIUM.

Some day a citizen of Los Angeles will find that he has voted at the same polling place in the same precinct two elections in succession and the coincidence will be such a shock to him that he will go off and have himself arrested for repeating.

GOING UP.

A man knows her opportunity when she sees it. Recognizing the abundant evidences of the high cost of living, the chickens refuse to lay plentifully and eggs have already started on their winter march to the nth degree. They are now retailing at 46 cents, which is unusual this early in the season.

A STIRRING CONTEMPLATION.

It is a common occurrence these days to observe a sign on many houses in the downtown district, "This House for Sale. Must Be Moved at Once." These houses were good enough ten years ago and are still good enough for the purposes of their original design, but the land on which they stand is too valuable to be occupied in this manner. Bungalows must give way to apartment houses and hotels, and the residences to hospitals and business blocks. The only way a man can be sure when building a home in Los Angeles that he is not placing it on the site of a next-year skyscraper is to plant it five miles in the country.

COMMON SENSE.

For a long time Calixto has been a dry town. Across the line, a hundred yards away, Mexicali has many open bazaars where such delicacies as tequila, mescal, pulque and straight American firewater may be had for a consideration. Merchants in the American town must sit idly by and watch the American iron men roll into the hills of the Mexican refreshment stands. Calixto therefore will have another election soon on an important subject. We don't blame it. A dry town is probably good enough for those who want it, but a dry town on one side and wet on the other is a most unfair proposition.

BAD POLITICS.

A rebel general in Mexico, who talks more than he fights, but who is nevertheless broadly encouraged by the fact that at least 18,000 revolutionists are under arms in seventeen States, is making loud threats against Americans in the land. Of course the rebels by a single massacre can force United States intervention; but, since America knows the source of the trouble and the motive for it, its intervention could not possibly be of any benefit to the rebel chieftains or their clan. Such tactics are misguided efforts on the part of the revolutionary leaders to save their own faces, for the Federal government of Mexico would be much easier on the trouble-makers than they could expect Americans to be under such great provocation.

FIVE PARCELS.

Why should the government be limited to the number of pounds that may be transmitted by mail in a parcels post? At 16 cents per pound the government cannot lose anything, no matter how weighty or bulky the package. Of course one would not send coal or combined harvesters or architectural iron by mail, but dry goods and maybe wet goods could be thus transported, and the operations of the parcels post might be extended to live stock. Tobias Easton, for instance, does not weigh over 150 pounds. Two-and-a-half dollars' worth of stamps on a tax would carry him to Dyker Bay, and on the reverse side of that tag might be printed the following from the fifty-second Psalm: "Thy tongue deviates, mischiefs like a sharp razor, working deceitfully. Thou lovest evil more than good; and lying rather than to speak righteousnes."

THE OCEAN PARK FIRE.

The destruction by fire at Ocean Park last evening assumes the proportions of a calamity. Millions of dollars' worth of property vanished in the flames and the loss has ruined hundreds of people whose all was licked up. It is a staggering blow to Ocean Park, but not an overwhelming stroke. Ocean Park has always been one of the nerviest and most aggressive communities on the local map. It will soon recover. Next summer will see a new Ocean Park with even greater attractions than those burned. Whatever the conflagration has done, it has not destroyed the charm of the place nor conquered the spirit of the people. The sympathy of all who knew and loved this popular beach town will go to the losers; helping hands will be held out from all sides; credit and capital will be forthcoming to boost the better and more substantial Ocean Park. And it is no idle prediction to add that it will be amply equipped with fire pumps for forcing the waters of the ocean upon any subsequent blaze and drowning it out ere it may go very far. Meanwhile let Venice and other beach cities take heed!

MANUFACTURED EVIDENCE.

The main point about contributions for carrying on political campaigns is not so much their size or their sources, but the way they are obtained and the uses to which they are put.

It will generally be conceded that all political parties and nearly if not all candidates for office have been in the habit of levying tribute wherever it could be obtained and not limited by the amount.

It is our opinion that a political campaign cannot be carried on without a very large amount of money, all of which may be used properly. We are unable quite to sympathize with the present wave of antagonistic sentiment against contributions from all corporations.

The really crucial point in the present controversy is the earnestness or the hypocrisy of those denying that they have obtained contributions from any given source. Let us concede the fact that political parties in the past have been willing to receive the唾沫 of war for campaign purposes, and that few political leaders (if any) felt qualms of conscience as to the source or size of these contributions, unless chagrined at the lack of substantial bulk. The present inquiry should go to the way in which these contributions have been obtained and the uses they have been put to. If it is shown that either corporations or individuals were approached for contributions in the way of blackmail that certainly would constitute a very grievous offense against political morality and a very serious menace to republican institutions.

The Senate has undertaken a formal investigation into this matter, and the committee is constituted very much as a court of law. Various facts will be stated and divers allegations made as to the origins and uses of the money. If this inquiry were before a properly-constituted court of law, with attorneys to take care of the interests of plaintiff and defendant, there is one line of testimony that would be rigorously excluded. It is what lawyers know as "manufactured evidence." Keep it out!

THE CONSPIRACY.

The excuse that the Lissner gang of fer for stealing the Republican organization from them to prevent regular Republicans from having an opportunity to vote for Taft is that the national Republican organization had neither power nor right to prescribe rules to the "sovereign" State of California for electing delegates to a national political convention; that, therefore, the action of the National Republican Convention in seating two delegates elected under the convention rules and denying seats to two delegates selected under a "sovereign" State rule was not warranted in law and was so infamous and iniquitous as to justify twenty-six California delegates in bolting the nomination and to warrant their Progressive backers in seizing the Republican name to nominate electors who will vote for Roosevelt. Since 1876 the unit rule has been banished from Republican national conventions to prevent himself from having an opportunity to vote for Taft is that the national Republican organization had neither power nor right to prescribe rules to the "sovereign" State of California for electing delegates to a national political convention; that, therefore, the action of the National Republican Convention in seating two delegates elected under the convention rules and denying seats to two delegates selected under a "sovereign" State rule was not warranted in law and was so infamous and iniquitous as to justify twenty-six California delegates in bolting the nomination and to warrant their Progressive backers in seizing the Republican name to nominate electors who will vote for Roosevelt.

The facts are undeniable that in Roosevelt's campaign the late E. H. Harriman raised over a quarter of a million dollars for Roosevelt. It is also undeniable that the Standard Oil Company contributed $125,000 for Roosevelt's political benefit. The campaign of 1904 was carried on at an expense of not less than $2,000,000. Possibly it may have amounted to twice that sum. The Harriman contribution was paid in about the end of the last week of the campaign, and used nearly all in New York City before the polls closed on the Tuesday following.

It is alleged that, in addition to the Standard Oil contribution, that corporation was asked to contribute another and a larger sum, but the great octopus refused and accordingly suffered at Mr. Roosevelt's hands for it. It is also in the government records that the Harriman interests and the Standard Oil interests were vigorously prosecuted, if not viciously persecuted, by the Department of Justice at Mr. Roosevelt's instruction, while the Morgan interests were always spared.

The evidence is documentary that Mr. Roosevelt wrote to Mr. Harriman appealing to his practical political sense, that Mr. Roosevelt referred to the Morgan interests as deserving of tender consideration at the hands of the Department of Justice because they had always been friendly to Roosevelt's political ambitions, while in the case of the Standard Oil Company, when his own attorneys advised him there was no merit in a case pending at Buffalo, he blurted out, "Drop the merits. Get a conviction."

Now in his own defense Mr. Roosevelt alleges certain orders given to those in charge of raising funds for his campaign and cites some of these orders in the shape of communications with his managers. We say without hesitation that these letters bear all the earmarks of "manufactured evidence." The document cited by Mr. Roosevelt is dated in the very last week before election, long after these contributions had been made and when all excepting the Harriman fund had been spent, and

Worrying Him.

TRIAL BY GENDER.

A Double Query by Harry W. Bowring.
SIR:

If you, being human,
Should kiss a fair woman,
Merely in innocent sport;
And having protested
She gets you arrested
And wants the case settled in court;
And a jury of males
On the evidence falls
To agree on a verdict; why, then,
Would you be quite willing?

A jury of women
Should try the case over again?

HE:

If I were tall, handsome,
Dark, dashing—and then some—
And single, whole-hearted and rich,
And if on the sky
Unregenerate!

Had kissed a fair damsel; which
Of the different forces
I'd choose—well, it sure is Like picking out pebbles from pearls;

Not a moment I'd pause,
But I'd offer my cause,

To twelve California girls.

HE:

If I'm fun you be,
Just to flirt with a man
And his wife didn't take the same view;
And when you deserted
This good lady started
A horrible hullabaloo;

And, spite of death,
Demanded a trial;

Determined to make a big stir;

And your chances seemed frail,

Tell me; female or male,
Which jury would you prefer?

SIR:

If I were as fair
And as sweet and rare
As the wilest flower in May;
And if by mischance
I had caused the fond desire
Of some husband to travel my way;

And wifey, grown jealous,

Had me, as well as

Her husband, arrested; why, then,

With the smile of a hour!

I'd call for a jury

Of twelve California men.

"Well," replied the shady police officer, "I've done a great deal toward hurting their feelings by taking their money away from them."

Last Direct Descendant of Gen. Coronado.

Stricken as She Gazes on Beloved Pacific.

Sitting on the veranda of her vine-clad cottage, No. 1247 Ocean Front avenue, Santa Monica, Monday evening at 6 o'clock, while her eyes rested with the bright vision of second childhood on the waters of the Pacific, aglow at that hour with an incomparable California sunset, Dona Arcadia Bandini de Baker suffered a stroke of apoplexy which rendered her speechless and helpless, and probably merged her into the night of unconsciousness.

All Monday night and Tuesday morning she lay in her home without a sign either of pain or of knowing, and yesterday afternoon she received the extreme unction of the Catholic Church, in which she has been confirmed, from the hands of the hands of her pastor, Rev. Patrick Devine. At night she still lived, but the sorrowing relatives who surrounded her bedside scarcely hoped that another sunrise would pour the red and gold wine of its warmth for her.

As the last direct descendant of a family which has lineage in the land of Gen. Coronado on the western hemisphere, and as the richest woman in Los Angeles county, the final illness of Dona Arcadia holds a special interest. Stories of her wealth and this interest is keenly shared by their children and their children's children, now numbered by the thousands.

Dona Arcadia's father was Don Juan Bandini, and Don Dolores Estudillo de Bandini, both being of pure Castilian blood, although their forefathers had lived on the American continent for at least three generations.

ROMANTIC CHILDHOOD.

Dona Arcadia was a beautiful child and she grew into a more lovely woman. The Spanish maidens mature early, and Dona Arcadia was no more than a child when her first husband, Don Abel Stearns, came a-wooing. Her mother was Dona Dolores Estudillo, son, who is still living, says that Dona Arcadia was 18 years old when her romance came to its happy fruition but Don Arcadia herself told her favorite grand-niece, Mrs. Anna Bandini Scott, who has made her home with her great aunt since she was only 11 years old when she became mistress of the Stearns fortune. The romantic dispute must remain unsettled, for they were married at the old San Gabriel Mission, and the book in which their records are kept goes back to Spain by some of the early mission fathers. She was born in 1822 and her marriage was either in 1834 or 1835.

Don Abel was a mighty man in those days. He owned thousands of acres of land, both at Santa Monica and San Jacinto, and had great interests in San Francisco. He was a pioneer, too, with his cattle and their sheep, by the tens of thousands, grazed through Tejon Pass. He had still other interests with Gen. Pico, and Pio Pico, and Pio Pico's sons and Pio Pico's street are named. It is possible that Dona Arcadia brought her husband an additional tidy fortune, for her father had much land and ranch business, as well as a large mercantile business, and Don Arcadia was his eldest daughter by his first wife.

Don Abel was 35 years of age when he married the prettiest Spanish girl. He had come here from Lowell, Mass., and was obliged to become a Catholic before her hand was given him. He took his chisel bride to San Francisco, where they resided at the Lick House, and she became the reigning belle of the city and the toast of the entire State. She was also the dominant factor in early Los Angeles, and when she died, leaving in a beautiful old Spanish dwelling with an elaborate inner court, which occupied the site of what is now the Baker Block on North Main street.

AN EARLY LANDMARK.

The Baker Block was built by her second husband, and remains in her possession. She died in 1872. She remained a widow for three years, and was then married to Col. R. S. Baker, who died in 1891.

Ahough possessed of a vast fortune, she lived quietly in the little cottage on Ocean Front avenue, and there she entertained from time to time many notable persons. Managing her little household was her granddaughter, Anna Bandini Scott, whom she sent on a tour around the world after her graduation from St. Mary's in this city and later from the Convent of the Holy Name at Oakwood. Only a few weeks ago, out of love and gratitude to the young woman who had been at her side a child for seventeen years, she gave Senorita Arcadia a cluster of beautiful diamonds worth about $4,000.

Now her estate, which is cannot now be estimated, besides the Baker Block and a vast quantity of Los Angeles property, Dona Arcadia's holdings include the famous Laguna Ranch, with its numerous valuable acres, which half-encircles Los Angeles, like a crescent, and which is appraised conservatively at $3,000,000. Dona Arcadia has no full brothers or sisters living, but is survived by a half-brother, Don Arturo Bandini, and a half-sister, Dona Dolores Johnson. Their mother was Dona Refugio Arquilla Bandini. Their sister, Dona Matilde Winston, has been dead for several years. Dona Arcadia's brothers and sisters were Dona Pedro Carrillo, Dona Cave J. Couts, Dona Antonia Bandini, and Don Jose Maria Bandini. Presently her surviving relatives are the widow of Chalmers Scott of this city, Don Juan Carrillo of Santa Monica and Miss Linda Lewis Boome of San Diego. She was also a cousin of the late Maria Antonia Wilcox.

Felic Employees.

HAMBURGER HOST TO SIXTEEN HUNDRED.

SIXTEEN hundred employees of the Hamburger store were banquetted last night by M. A. Hamburger, who recently returned from a year's tour of the Orient.

Shortly after his home-coming from the long trip the employees were hosts at a dinner in honor of the Hamburger brothers. At that time a demonstration of affection and loyalty took place which swept "M. A." from his moorings and left him speechless. The affair last night was his "come back."

With the dinner was served the Hamburger orchestra played, and later Ardie James sang, accompanied by Miss Jessie Glitman. F. T. McLeod, another Hamburger worker, was accompanied by Lena Macleod, and a male quartette, composed of Messrs. Vaus, Lee, Vaus and Gill, made themselves sole with the guitars. O. Bartlett was chairman of the evening and Will C. Haffeldinger, who is the recognized Demosthenes of the institution, acted as toastmaster.

M. A. Hamburger told the waiters of his experiences in the South Seas and through the Orient, and C. E. Adams, who returned not long ago from an European buying trip, supplemented the "Big Chief's" talk by one on "Ancient Europe." Arthur Hamburger, his brother recently back in the fold, discussed the "Science of Merchandising."

Other speakers were W. E. Chamberlain, "Employee's Opportunity," George W. Hife, "Character and Efficiency," and W. E. H. H. of Help to the Buyer," W. J. Tummonds, "Science and Liberal Arts," and G. E. Hannings, "Hamburger Educational Institute."

A number of topical songs adapted to the requirements of the occasion by W. R. Stevens and Miss Mable Parks were features of the musical part of the programme.

O. Bartlett was chairman of the church to rid the city of vice and corruption, declaring in conclusion that Los Angeles compares favorably with any city of equal size in the United States when it comes to a lack of vice.

Benjamin F. Pearson of the Whiteman School, who represented Legion of Good Will, mentioned his marks largely to the physical welfare of the church in Los Angeles. He said it owns property valued at $1,000,000, has forty charges within the city limits, and is doing a tremendous amount of work for the poor.

The speaker spoke with enthusiasm of the M. E. school, declaring it is "the greatest in Southern California," with an enrollment of 2000.

Bishop Shepherd was then formally introduced, and spoke a few words in his fight against the saloons, and predicted their ultimate eradication.

The wonderful growth of Los Angeles was a surprise to him, and he added that he expects to live on the day when it would be built up solidly "from the mountains to the sea."

The innumerable homes springing up around the city, he said, presented a picture he contended, and the new editions rearing their heads above their surroundings bespeak to his mind a municipality rich in the fullness of life.

At the conclusion of his remarks Bishop Shepherd held an informal reception in front of the pulpit, meeting the several hundred members of the congregation, who had gathered at his hand and personally bid him welcome to Los Angeles and Southern California.

He tendered a reception by the congregation of the Swedish M. E. Church, Fifteenth and Los Angeles streets. He will preside at the conference of that branch of the denomination, which convenes today, and will continue in session until Monday evening.

The distinguished visitor was recently assigned by Bishop E. H. Hughes of San Francisco to preside at the three Methodist Episcopal conferences to be held in Southern California within the next four weeks. Yesterday Bishop Shepherd was the guest of the Rev. Frank G. Tyrrell, of the First M. E. Church.

This evening Bishop Shepherd will be tendered a reception by the congregation of the Swedish M. E. Church, Fifteenth and Los Angeles streets. He will preside at the conference of that branch of the denomination, which convenes today, and will continue in session until Monday evening.

The latter part of this month the bishop will be the presiding officer at the California conference, which will hold its sessions at Ocean Grove. At its conclusion he will rest for a day or two to prepare for the more arduous duties incident upon him by presiding over the Southern California conference that convenes this year on October 3 at Long Beach.

After a short tour of the State, Bishop Shepherd will return to Chicago, preparatory to moving to Kansas City and formally taking up his residence in the new building to be erected by the presiding officer at the Southern California conference that convenes this year on October 3 at Long Beach.

The reception tendered Bishop Shepherd last night was a pleasing social success, as well as a moral uplift to those who attended. The choir, which included a soloist, performed with potted flowers, ferns and palms. They gave a setting for two large American flags.

Mr. Cleveland of the Boyle Heights M. E. Church presided.

Following several solo and choir selections, Dr. Locke welcomed Bishop Shepherd in behalf of the Methodist Episcopal pastors of the city, and the former rendering of hymns by the members of the original church conference inaugurated thirty-six years ago.

These four men—Knighton, Green, Tarr and J. M. Campbell," said Dr. Tarr, addressing his remarks to the members of the congregation at the Southern California conference."

The speaker told the visitor that there are fifty preachers of their faith in the city, and with pride pointed to the new E. H. church, a dilating upon the great work it is achieving.

Rev. Mr. Cleveland confined his remarks to the activities of the church in its efforts to purify local politics. He commented on the work of the Southern California conference.

He leaves a widow, formerly Miss Olive Ion, who died two years ago, and an adopted son, Herbert C.

Barry was born in Ireland seventy years ago and early came to this country. He drifted into the mining region of Arizona and made a good living there. for whom they are intended, "and no one else."

The women are Chicago dressmakers. They are looking for new husbands. They lost their first ones—not via Reno, but by natural causes. The women say they are lonely. There isn't a man in the whole of Chicago that suits them and they have pinned their hopes upon Los Angeles.

The merry widows wrote the Chief to help them and he agreed. In their joint letter, received at headquarters yesterday, they said they had heard that the Chief had been instrumental in "mating" two Chicago women with Los Angeles men and that a third match was in the "making."

As both the matches referred to have so far proven a great success "to all parties concerned," the widows questioned decided to elicit his services. They said that the Chief had been instrumental in "mating" two Chicago women with Los Angeles men and that a third match was in the "making."

Denver, however, is not scared by the prognostication. Her delegation will arrive Saturday night and having discovered the breeze setting northward will bring a famous drum corps and band to lead the way for the mountain city. They have eighty musicians in the organization, and immediately upon arrival will serenade the Commander-in-Chief and then sweep him off to the hotel.

SEGREGATION ORDERS.

POLICE MAY PREVENT WHITE WOMEN FROM WORKING FOR CHINESE OR JAPANESE RESTAURANTS.

A movement looking to the barring of all white female help from cafes and restaurants owned, controlled or managed by Japanese or Chinese, was started recently by the Chinese, who filed with the Chief's letter recommending such action. This letter, carrying the recommendation of the Chief, will be submitted to the Police Commission at its meeting this month.

There is a possibility that later the proposed action may be sufficiently widened in its scope as to include all white female help in the numerous stores throughout the city that are owned or controlled by orientals.

For some days Officer Leo Marden has been investigating the employment of white girls and women in oriental cafes and restaurants, and has found that some of the women have quickly fallen into the moral clutches of the foreigners and have been started thereby on a downward career.

During the past week the members of the Metropolitan Squad have taken about half a dozen girls from oriental eating places who were openly living either with their employers or men working in the establishments.

There is a story of an exceptionally prepossessing young woman of a good family, when taken to Central Station, confessed that the man she was working for had taught her to smoke opium.

The Chief says he will recommend to the Police Commission that an order be issued barring all white female help from oriental eating places, with the penalty that the order will not be reinstated compiled with that shall license be revoked.

BELIEVES JEALOUSY CAUSED FORMER BRIDESMAID TO KILL WOMAN WHO REFUSED TO MARRY HIM.

The Coroner decided yesterday afternoon that it was not necessary to hold an inquest over the bodies of Warren J. Cody, late of Bakersfield, who committed suicide by drinking poison after beating to death Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, 48 years old, in her home at No. 4327 Eastern avenue, Monday evening. The bodies were removed to the Breezes mortuary.

After a careful investigation of the matter, he said, the Coroner said he had satisfied himself that Cody was jealous of Mrs. Smith and killed her when she threw him into a rage by refusing to marry him.

Relatives of Mrs. Cody have made arrangements to bury her. Her son, a former employee of the Southern Pacific Railway Company at Bakersfield, coming to Los Angeles recently from that city.

CHIEF WILL NOT REQUIRE THEM TO USE THEIR OWN TIME FOR INSPECTION DRILLS THIS FALL.

The Chief said yesterday there would be no street parade and general inspection of the Police Department when the members "blow off" the first of October in their new blue uniforms.

The statement of the Chief was brought out by the report that in a few days he would issue orders for drills and other preparations incident to the general review and inspection. The men seemed somewhat anxious among officers and patrolmen who were free to say that they did not relish the idea of semi-weekly drills.

"We will have them take up the month," said the Chief, yesterday, "by probably holding an inspection of the new uniforms at each of the stations. That will be a bit out of the ordinary. From the public will be little disappointed in seeing all the men mustered at one time upon a field, like they did last spring at the annual review, but it would be better to keep up the interest of the men to ask them to drill at this time for another parade. So I have about decided to have just a little review and inspection at each of the stations. That will give the men an opportunity

Circling the Globe.

NIPPON STATESMAN'S MESSAGE OF AMITY.

B RINGING to his countrymen a message of admittance to be loyal to the country of their adoption, Yosaburo Takekoshi, member of the Japanese Parliament and distinguished writer and ardent patriot, yesterday on his arrival, was in the world around the globe. Upon his arrival yesterday morning he was met by a delegation of prominent Japanese, including G. Yuasa, president of the Japanese Association of Los Angeles, and taken on a tour of the beaches. He was especially interested in the shipping at San Pedro and at once commented on the opportunities for industrial and marine development.

"Years ago I read in a novel," he said last night, "a description of California which pictured it as a country glittering with gold and silver and potential wealth. Now that I have seen it I recognize that every word was true. Everything here is so bountiful and wonderful that I am unable to fully express my admiration."

Takekoshi has already visited a large number of Japanese ranchers and fruit growers in the northern part of Southern California and has made several addresses to them. Every speech he tells them that they must work to develop their local interests.

"If you make money," he tells them, "invest it here and not send it home. You have identified yourself with the United States and this is your country now. Work for it and with it."

In referring to the relations, political and otherwise, between Japan and the United States, the visitor said: "As a member of the Japanese Parliament I feel fully justified in asserting that everything is friendly between our two nations and I can see nothing in the future that is likely to change the situation."

"In every country there are charlatans and desperadoes who like to stir up strife. There are some agitators who are talking for their own special political purposes and they do not represent the general public sentiment."

"In Japan we have drunk the bitter dregs of war. We have experienced the misery and suffering and hardships that it entails. Therefore we do not necessarily enter upon another conflict. The desire of people is that of ours is toward a higher civilization instead of toward the lower class in which war might be waged by other parts."

Takekoshi is accompanied by Prof. Yoshiharu Negishi of St. Paul's College, Tokyo. They will remain in this country for several days after which they will go to New York. Their journey is literally a circling of the globe for they will go to London an back to Japan by way of St. Petersburg and Siberia. They were entertained at dinner last night by the local Japanese.

Takekoshi, besides being of national prominence politically, is one of the leading writers of his country. He has written several books and many political articles, most of which deal with national and international politics.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

PANAMA and Suez
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 3.
To the Editor of The Times:
In a recent issue you state that New York would, after the opening of the Panama Canal, have eight days advantage over Liverpool in the length of passage between the Orient and those two ports. If both used the Panama route this would be the case, but no vessel trading between the Orient and Liverpool would think of coming home by that route. The distance is very much greater by that route than by Suez, as the accompanying tables will show. Indeed, you will notice that all the Asiatic routes (with the exception of Yokohama) are less between those ports and Plymouth, than by the Suez route, than they are between their geographical positions and New York and the Panama route. Distances in miles:

From New York to—
Panama—Suez—Vic-

IN DEFENSE OF COLEGROVE.

Mr. Cole, former Senator Revives Boulevard Name Controversy in Letter to Councilman.

The Santa Monica boulevard-Colegrove boulevard controversy, which was apparently dormant, has been revived by Mrs. Olive Colegrove Cole, wife of former Senator Cole, with a letter to Councilman Andrews. Copies of the letter have been sent to the other Councilmen. Mrs. Cole states that she addresses Councilman Andrews because he is the only member of the Council who is advocating the name of Colegrove for the street.

The advocates of the name of Santa Monica were recently victorious when the City Council decided that the name of Monica must stick until an ordinance changing it is adopted, thereby sustaining the Streets and Boulevards Committee in its decision that no change of name shall be considered unless petition representing at least 61 per cent of the street frontage affected are presented.

Mrs. Cole argues that there are two Santa Monica streets and that usage will prevent any change in the name of the older one. She states that Colegrove has been known for more than thirty years and that the electric cars which traverse the boulevard bear the name of Colegrove. Another point made by Mrs. Cole is that the County Surveyors have named the boulevard from the westerly city limits to the ocean line "Colegrove boulevard."

Residents of Colegrove, at a mass meeting held August 1, voted to support the name, which has been a delight to all.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

Pasadena.

BEST ROADS IN ALL THE WORLD

Pasadena Ex-Mayor Claims Them for California.

Burglar Rifles Store and Gets Small Reward.

Action on Traffic Ordinance Again Postponed.

Office of the Times, 22 N. Fair Oaks Avenue.)

PASADENA, Sept. 4.—The time will certainly come when Southern California will be generally known as the place which has the best roads in the world. In fact, we have the best roads in the world here now.

This statement was made last night by former Mayor Thomas Earley upon his return from Europe. He is also chairman of the Los Angeles County Good Roads Commission.

"I paid much attention," he said, "to the roads which I saw in different parts of the United States and parts of the United States which I passed through, and nowhere have I seen roads to equal these we are constructing in Southern California, and especially in Los Angeles county. More than that, I met persons everywhere who had heard of our roads, which are praised throughout the East. I can say with positive assurance that no roads are being constructed for the money in any other part of the world."

"Almost all of the roads one travels over in Europe are of water macadam, and it requires constant attention to keep them in good condition. I saw very few of oil macadam such as ours."

"However, Europeans are ahead of us in the matter of railroad crossings. Most of the crossings there are so constructed that the train goes either overhead or under the road. There are strong gates and a watchman."

LITTLE BOOTY.

An old and battered half-dollar and twenty-five pennies were all that was earned by a boy who last Friday night broke into the cigar store of G. J. Baker at No. 115 West Colorado street, and rifled the cash register. Entrance was effected through a rear door. The thief only got for his trouble what Baker had not deemed valuable enough to take out of the till upon closing the store for the night.

TWILIGHT BASEBALL.

The first game of the new Twilight League was played at Carmelita Play-ground yesterday evening. This league has been formed for the benefit of boys between 14 and 16 years, and are thus unable to play ball at the customary time of the day. There are six teams in the league, two made up of Carmelita Playground boys, one from North Pasadena, one from Linda Heights, one from Glendale, one from the city. The games will continue until October 1 and will be played at 5 o'clock in the evening. There was a good attendance at yesterday's game.

ACTION IS POSTPONED.

The City Council at its regular Monday night conference at the Masonic Temple last night discussed the proposed new traffic ordinance, but as there is still a great deal to be considered in connection with it no action will probably be taken at today's session.

As the result of a visit of Mayor Thum and Councilmen Root, Barnes and Rhodes to the East End storm drain district last Saturday, the boundaries of the district will probably be established again, if not now, next week. The object of the inspection, Mayor Thum said last night, was to see how the boundaries checked up.

COST OF STREET WORK.

A report made yesterday by the City Bureau of Efficiency shows that the street department expenses for the month of July, last, totaled $15,491.30. This was divided as follows:

Cost of various classes of cleaning, $1,000.49; cost of various repairs, $1,500.00; general maintenance of stock equipment, etc., $455.11; statistics of general expenses, $1250.23; cost of operating and maintaining automobiles, $166.80; cost of operating and maintaining rollers, $496.11; cost of miscellaneous improvements, $1,500.00; initial cost of equipment, $74.45; value of extra time allowed employees, $363.45; cost of material and handling and transferring, $399.65; accounts receivable, $361.87.

CITY BRIEFS.

T. P. Lukens and Chief Clifford of the fire department have made plans for the entertainment of the visiting fire chiefs in Pasadena next week. The visitors will make an automobile ride about the city and a luncheon at the Maryland Hotel.

The first fall meeting of the Young Women's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian Church will be held at the church hall on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in the morning and the members will remain at the church until 5 o'clock this afternoon.

A meeting of the joint committees of members of the Board of Trade and of the F. Godfrey Fox Grand Army of the Republic, which has charge of the arrangements for the entertainment of the veterans who are to visit Pasadena next Monday, will be held in the Board of Trade rooms at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Rodwin Scudder of No. 531 Galena avenue, has gone to Lake Tahoe to rejoin Dr. and Mrs. Ethel Scudder there.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The executive board of the Parent-Teachers' Association held a meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. David A. Vail, No. 184 Spruce street, president of the Federation of Parent-Teacher associations of the city, to outline a plan of work for the coming year in the Lincoln Park, Maywood and El Cerrito schools. This board has decided to make the organization in this city, which has already come into prominence through its earnest endeavor to promote social life between teachers and parents, as well as to help teachers by discussion of home and school problems, to settle the question of the troublesome child. Receptions and entertainments of various sorts for the teachers will take a large place in the year's program.

Mrs. David A. Vail represented South Pasadena at the executive board meeting of the Mothers' Congress of district No. 1 at the Hall of Records in Los Angeles yesterday, where an outline was made by the board of the activities to be carried out by the district for the ensuing year. This outline will be presented to the State board of the organization for approval.

Parents in this city are interested in seeing that the city receive the largest possible premium on the $70,000 issue of school bonds to be placed on the market. A difference of 6 per cent on these bonds would amount to $4200, and the residents believe that by getting competition, the highest price can be realized, even if part of the bonds are purchased by local investors.

Admission Day at Pomona Is to Be an Occasion of Joyousness on Account of Railroad.

POMONA, Sept. 3.—Under the direction of Morris H. Wilson, president of the local board of trade, arrangements were completed for the programme of sports and amusements for Admission Day, when the entrance of the interurban service of the Pacific Electric system into Pomona will be fittingly celebrated.

A baseball game between the Majestic teams of Covina, Ontario and Pomona will be the feature of the programme. The first match will be at 2 o'clock, the second for the championship of the meet. The Seventh Regiment band will be recruited for musical programme and it is possible that the Venice band will also be present to give a concert if present plans are consummated. As many automobiles as possible will be obtained to show the visitors about the valley, and it is hoped in this way to widely advertise the splendid attractions of this city and valley as places of residence.

A most interesting feature of the celebration will be the production by the Big Drama School of Woodland Players of Los Angeles, of the noted out-of-doors Shakespearean drama, "As You Like It." This original production has an excellent reputation for its presentation of woodland drama. The play will be staged at Ganesha Park, near the fountain and greenways in the northwest part of the park. The special selection for the purpose is an afternoon and evening performance will be given, the beauty of the latter being enhanced by the use of colored lights provided for 2000 persons. There will be no seats. The players will be brought here over the electric line.

SHORT NEWS STORIES.

In accordance with orders received by Postmaster W. M. Avis from the Postoffice Department at Washington, concerning on next Sunday the local postmen will discontinue all general delivery carriers windows and lock-boxes with respect to the distribution of mail.

The Postoffice Department is endeavoring to reduce Sunday work to the minimum so that as many employees as possible may end Sunday as early as possible. The Postoffice will therefore be reduced to a small number of clerks sufficient to take care of transit and dispatch mail. At present there are twelve clerks here Sunday, and it is possible that this service may be slightly curtailed, but not to any appreciable degree.

ERICKSON. John Erickson, 21, of Long Beach, was shot in the head by a man who was carrying a gun. He was taken to the hospital, where he died this morning. The man who shot him was identified as a Long Beach resident.

LONG BEACH.

Guests at the Delieff Apartments this morning were treated to the terrifying spectacle of a fleeing screaming woman sprinting down the stairs and through the hall into Seaside boulevard, while behind her came a serpentine trail of fire which threatened destruction to the house as it caught hold of the carpets and dry wood of the hall.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Mr. Ethel Martin, a guest at the house, while preparing breakfast, picked up a bottle labeled salad dressing and thinking it was grease, poured part of the contents into a skillet and fry some meat. The bottle, however, contained gasoline and an instant the skillet was burning. Mrs. Martin, with a scream, started for the door with the bottle in her hand spilling gasoline behind her with every step and which took fire and followed her so closely that as she reached the walk the hem of her dress was ablaze. The bottle was empty by this time and, leaping from the floor, she shattered the glass and the flame on the bottom of her dress. Inutes later the house quickly beat out the trail of fire and saved the building with but little damage. Mrs. Martin escaped unharmed save for a severe nervous shock.

SURVEYORS BEGIN WORK.

Maricopa-Ventura Road Will Soon

Be an Actuality If Present Plans Find No Hitch.

VENTURA, Sept. 3.—The surveyors for the Maricopa-Ventura roadway through the mountains of this county started out today from Northhoff for the beginning of the work. There are twenty men in the train, which is made up of pack animals carrying all the essentials for a trip to last nine months.

The work will begin just beyond the Matilija hot springs and at the top of the Wheeler Springs. From that point the road will run the ridge of the range, right along to Pine Mountain.

Supervisor Tom Clark, who has taken a lively interest in the enterprise, says that the road to be built in this county will be twenty-five miles in length, and will be graded to a width of $7,200 in all, which is considered a low figure as compared to the estimates which have been made.

An eighteen or twenty-foot road can be constructed for that amount. In solid rock foundation, however, it would be proposed to limit the width of the road to eight feet. Sol Sheridan, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, and Jack Hollingsworth accompanied the party as viewers.

PROTEST FROM TIDES.

Edgar T. Boughton, for twenty years an instructor in the schools of Riverside county, and for many years principal of the Hemet High School, left

Los Angeles yesterday.

He has secured a position as instructor of science in the Gardena Agricultural High School. This branch of the Glendale

High School is the only one in this district to offer courses to agricultural subjects. Rev. F. L.

Carrier of All Souls Universalist

Church, has accepted the principalship of the Elsinore High School.

active part in battles in Pennsylvania and the war for independence.

Mrs. Hunagates lived for 80 years in

She first came to California in 1854, settling with her husband in Petaluma.

For twenty years she made

Riverside her home, living the first ten years of that time in the Perkins Valley.

RECORD-BREAKING WEATHER.

After studying the August temperature record, Riversiders are waking up to the fact that the weather during that period was the finest the city has ever known.

The temperature was over 90

while the maximum was 93.

The lowest maximum was 83 and the lowest minimum 50.

The average was 72 1/2, which would be ideal for any month of the year.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS GOOD.

Riversiders may not be as sensitive as they once were; at any rate, business conditions have been as uniform

as the past few years.

The Board of Trustees last night

fixed the tax rate for the ensuing year at 90 cents, which will give the city about $16,000 for the expenses for the next twelve months.

The Trustees tomorrow night will take formal steps to either force the local electric light company to connect the City Hall with its power system, or to refuse to do so.

The residents claimed that the good people of the city had done with the sale of the bonds

what the city could do with them.

The city will have any

in disposing of its bonds

for both the road work and the water system.

The Board of Trustees met last night in the South Coast Yacht Club pavilion at East Newport. Addresses were made by leading bankers of the county, followed by refreshments.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The trustees have sold the land site, consisting of four acres, to the city of Fullerton for $100,000. The property will be used for park purposes.

Mrs. George Pickrell died at her home here Sunday. The body was sent to Pasadena for burial.

On receipt of telegram from New Mexico, Sheriff Abel Pritchard a ticket

BERKELEY FRESHMAN TEAM SHOWS CLASS.

(Special Correspondence of the Times.)
UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Sept. 2.—Although defeated in a 15-to-9 score in the opening football game of the season, held on California field Saturday afternoon, the California freshmen showed better form than any other new team that has ever played the new game, and it looks as though the University of Southern California fifteen will have a tough proposition to handle by the time Coach Schaeffer has devoted six weeks to the babies. In the first half the freshmen not only held the Barbarytes scoreless, but kept the playing wau wide of their opponents' territory.

None of the southern men on the team showed some marked ability, and the opinion of many of the critics that A. M. Hunt of Santa Barbara, who was at wing three-quarters throughout the game, will be seen in a varsity suit before many weeks go by. Hodges of Los Angeles at side right and Remmy de Coudres of Long Beach in the middle were the stars of the game among the freshman stars while they remained in the game during the first half. In the second period a dozen or more new men were substituted, and the Barbies had a chance to use their knowledge and experience to advantage.

Seven of the fifteen points scored were made by dropkicks, one from the field and another from a penalty. Only two of them was the freshman goal crossed for tries.

Graff of Pomona at inside five-eighths also looks like a comer, while "Pinky" Lane from Belmont and Jim Porter from Oakland play like veterans.

On Tuesday the varsity candidates will be in uniform, and the real enthusiasm of the big football season will be on the look-out. The victories 1909 team is back to assist with the coaching, and every effort will be made to turn out a winning squad.

FROM THE MASON TO THE MAJESTIC

By JULIAN JOHNSON

John Barrymore was slated for "Anatole," at the Wee Auditorium, but now he seems destined to play the leading role in a Liebler production, entitled "Copper Hoyt, Inc."

Hugh Ford, general stage director for the Lieblers, is getting up the production.

At last account Margaret Illington was playing "Kindling" in Win-

Moroco will start from Chicago today in his own Pope-Hartford to

New York City.

He expects to be on the way the better part of five days. His schedule now doesn't call for arrival until next

Sunday afternoon.

On account of various show post-ponements the magnate of Main, Forty-second and State streets will be home in three weeks though he had expected to remain almost two months longer.

The new Cort theater will not be ready until December, therefore "Peg o' My Heart" will not be produced until that time.

Though "The Fox" is ready, Nat
Goodwin, who was to have played it in
New York, most certainly is not.

And "The Money Moon" has not been done here yet, so that reverses Moroco's interests, and brings him back here.

The task which is really taking him to New York at the present time is the engagement of principals for the new Moroco theater in Los Angeles.

This, without doubt, will be the most important stock company formed since the days of Augustin Daly.
They will do big plays and its menu will be large and expensive.

When he leaves New York, three weeks hence, boss Oliver will have that list of names in his pocket.

Another important announcement:
It is Orrin Johnson, not Richard Bennett, who is to give the premier performance of "The Money Moon" here, and it is to be done at the Belasco.

Something else is in the wind for Nat plays secured by Moroco during the past week—I mean plays new to stock—are "Checkers," "The First Lady of the Land" and "The Witching Hour."

CAN TRAINER BE BLAMED FOR TEAM?

Now that England has gone so far in her efforts to rehabilitate her athletic system as to propose to engage an American trainer, the question of how far the trainer is responsible for the success of the American team is worth considering. The American trainers have been players and instructors in this country than in England is admitted everywhere, though it is by no means certain that they dominate the situation so completely as some of the English authorities believe.

As a matter of fact, there are many who think that the college spirit is the incentive that leads the American young to great deeds on the track rather than the professional trainer, who looks after his physical condition while he is winning honors for his alma mater.

BIG WAR NOW ON OVER OLYMPIC GAMES.

(By Federal (Wireless) Line to The Times.)
NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 2.—[Special Dispatch.]
The expected athletic controversy between England and the United States regarding the Olympic games has become a fact, and now threatens a complete break in the sporting relations of the two countries. The repeated attacks made by English writers and publications against the American athletes and our methods and systems have caused instant alarm in the Olympic committee of this country refuses longer to sit silent under the vicious statements im-puting the honesty and sportsmanship of the American athletes and officials of the London and Stockton games.

The last straw came in the form of a letter printed in the London Times this morning in which the writer makes specific charges of athletic dishonesty against the American team.

When the dispatch was shown to the members of the American Olympic committee in this city there was a hurried conference and it was decided that in justice to team and officials the attacks could not longer be ignored.

Jesse E. Sullivan, the American Olympic commissioner, says:

"The charge that the Americans pocketed the competitors of other nations is absolutely false. When our athletes went to the mark they raced to it and won the team. They were there to win and each American can say his own race and did not try to obstruct any one."

WHITE HOPES ARE TOO
GREEN FOR BIG FIGHT.

William Muldoon is a regular patron of the boxing bout in New York City, but he is not actually engaged in his former task of training heavyweight pugilists. Muldoon, once a great wrestler and strong man, is getting along in years, but his fondness for fasticu will never die. The veteran is as eager to see a white heavyweight champion of the world as the next, and some day he says his hour will be realized.

Muldoon has a high opinion of Al Palzer and Luther McCarthy, but he insists that they are still too young to be held as future heavy-weight champions. Palzer should be allowed to fight for the championship until he is 25 years old," said Muldoon recently. "The same goes for McCarthy. Both are strong now, but in two or three years they will be sufficiently matured to stand rigorous training. Careful handling is important in developing a champion, and these young men need plenty of it."

TROJAN LEADERS START NORTH NEXT WEEK.

Coach Manning and Capt. "Smoke" Adamson of the University of Southern California football team are to make their first trip northward this weekend, where they will follow the opening Rugby practices at Cornell and Stanford.

"Smoke" says that he intends to get out of the north with northern experts and squids, if the coaches will allow, as he is a great believer in personal contact. The northern universities encourage the sending of the southern men to their schools, but the coaches say it will be only a matter of a few years now until the north will guard its secrets from the south, as rigidly as is done on the home field.

Dr. Lowsey is very enthusiastic in his praise of the great advance made in physical training in the Los Angeles schools and playgrounds.
